CONSULT ABOUT VEGAN DESSERT

TABLE SERVICE $ 2200

1 Orient Express $ 10000

There where the tracks ended, east of Europe, a different world began. From the luxury of the sultans to the peace of rice fields where Japan’s sake finds its place, and the grains from cold Istambul give us the warmth of vodka, in this journey, we sweeten our desire to keep moving forward.

Sernova Vodka, red berry Coulis, lemongrass, and natural cucumber juice.

2 Working Class Ticket $ 10500

While gentlemen smoked their cigarettes there, in the last wagon, they could vaguely hear a party coming from the front of the train. The workers, the working class, clinked their alpaca glasses and celebrated the end of a successful shift. A refreshing blend of herbs and gin, intriguing and hidden in metal walls, an elixir to end a day of achievements.

Spirito Blu Gin, Sierra herbal tincture, lime cordial, drops of Fernet Branca.

3 Train Piston $ 10500

The evolution of the train’s piston shape not only made it have a more elegant ride but also created greater maintenance needs. It was the balance of its conditions that generated an almost perfect ride, a balance represented in this cocktail that slides down the throat with smoothness of the train’s glide.

Sernova vodka, passion fruit juice cordial, Amazonian bitter.

4 Honeymoon Suite $ 12500

In first class, at the front of the first car, we found this intriguing velvet cabin with all the European luxury, a cabin that could lack a destination but not a purpose, a cabin destined to celebrate love, passion. This cocktail represents that, an exotic and tropical cocktail that will awaken warmth even in the most introverted couples.

Gold rum, Aperol, passion fruit tepache, falernum, natural grapefruit juice.

5 Crazy Train $ 11000

The tracks in Europe were not always in perfect condition; a Mexican operator who had come with some engineers from the United States was unaware of this. His addiction to speed and risk almost caused the train to crash, a train they named “El Loco” because of the Mexican operator. This cocktail invites you to take risk, but be careful; it may imply derailing.

White Torrontés wine reduction, pear and fig bitter, citric solution, pear cider, cashew nuts caramel.

CELEBRATED PASSENGERS

6 Miss Marple $ 10500

Few people know that Hercules Poirot could not solve a crime of precise intuition alone. Miss Marple was an old lady, tough, strong, and British to the bone. Despite being noisy, her intelligence and her ability to seem like a simple old lady were key to helping Detective Poirot. This cocktail makes a toast to the detective who assisted Poitot, with fresh flavors, intriguing perfume, and a complex heart.

Spirito Blu Gin, clarified melon or watermelon cordial (check availability), Himalayan salt.

7 Monsieur Poirot $ 11000

Infiltrated among the passengers of the Orient Espress, at the Calais station, Hercules Poirot will attempt to decipher among these wagons the crime that would grant him eternal fame. With elegant and smooth flavors this cocktail will be the key to discovering what happened to Ratchet.

Sernova vodka, pineapple and ginger jam, lemon cordial, spice drops, perfume of the Amazon.

8 Queen’s Whim $ 15300

How important J.W. Bradley felt since it was his train the one that transported Queen Victoria’s whim from the Far East. She didn’t drink her drinks like everyone else; she loved her colonies and always asked for the most exotic ingredients that existed.

Scottish Whiskey, kiwi or persimmon cordial (check seasonal availability), sparkling water, basil.

INFAMOUS PASSENGERS

9 Young Joe $ 11000

Joe Gilmore was the last one of The Bartenders to serve James Walter Bradley before starting his legendary career at the Savoy’s American Bar. At just 15 years old, he gave Bradley’s last years the sweet and exotic flavors of the new era.

Spirito Blu Gin, strawberry-flavored water kefir, cucumber reduction, crystal lime.

10 VI King $ 16300

This Swedish magnate seduced women all over Europe, convincing them that he was a descendant of Odin, earning him the nickname “Viking King”. One of these ladies, disappointed by the “demigod”, killed him at his summer house and ran to the train. To soothe her pain, she immersed herself in a strong whisky blend to forget.

Scottish whiskey, walnut wood syrup, tangerine perfume, cocoa bitter.

11 Irish Breeze $ 14400

There, east of Eastern Europe, where the cliffs meet the sea, it is formed the fresh breeze of the Irish countryside wich would bring the smells of the sea to the highlands and, when mixed with the herbs and corn of the field, would inspire Bradley to travel the world.

Vodka, lime cordial, pineapple juice, corn, and smoked butter, homemade solera rum bitter, chocolate, and “ají puta parió”.

12 Red Flag $ 10500

Once in the East, as Europe became colder, gray buildings marked the landscape, and hundreds of thousands of peasants gathered wheat. There, where the train stopped, red flags waved, and enemy wagons were checked. Here, they would always find a load of juicy strawberries, so delicious that there was a small tax to let them pass several kilos of these delicious fruits.

Sernova Vodka, lime lemon cordial, strawberry cream.

13 Lido de Venecia $ 10500

One of the most celebrated beaches in Europe was in nortnen Italy, where culture and elegance were a pact of high society. One day, at a stop of the Orient Express, came an atypical traveler from South America. He got off at these beaches, and brought the taste of the Caribbean, a flavor that perpetuates on every beach in the world.

Gold rum, Malibu, natural pineapple juice, passion fruit cordial, red berry ice cream.
